MORGAN IS RELEASED.

Colored Man Arrested as a Suspect in the Quinn Case, Satisfies the Police of His Innocence.

John Morgan, the colored man arrested on suspicion in the Quinn murder case, was released Saturday morning by Magistrate Miller, with the acquiescence of the police.
Only two witnesses were examined at the hearing. The first was Watchman Otto Skillinger, who saw a colored man retreating from the scene of the crime at about the time and in the direction the murderer would be fleeing. He could not identify Morgan as the man he saw.

John Dougherty, who first set the police on the trail of Morgan with a story to the effect that he saw him on Hampton street, not far from the scene of the murder, at 8.30 o'clock Monday night, reiterated his statement before the magistrate, but as the police had verified Morgan's claim that he was in the central city when the crime occurred, the testimony was immaterial.
The police are now devoting most of their attention to suspicions which bring the crime home to a man living in the same neighborhood as the Quinns. As yet, however, there is nothing more than mere suspicions.

UPTON NOT GUILTY.

Jury Said He Did Not Embezzle Funds of Imperial Stain, Paint and Filler Company.

Francis H. Upton, formerly general manager of the Imperial Stain, Paint and Filler company was on Saturday returned not guilty of having embezzled about $1,700 of the funds of that company, whose president, George D. Brown, was the prosecutor.

Mr. Upton's defense was that he was in general charge of the affairs of the company and that he was forced to spend sums of his money to promote the business of his employers. These expense items were the basis of the embezzlement charge. They were legitimate items of expense, Mr. Upton contended, and it was right and just the company should pay them. On the stand he declared in the most positive manner that he had never misappropriated a cent of the funds of the company.
The jury believed his story and a verdict of not guilty was returned.

RECRUITS FROM THE COUNTRY

FARM HANDS TO TAKE THE STRIKERS' PLACES.

Squad of Thirty-nine Secured by an Agent of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, at Factoryville, Pass Through Here En Route for Wilkes-Barre, to Take the Places of the Men Who Quit at the Stanton Colliery—Olyphant Sub-Bosses Join the Strikers.

Saturday last thirty-nine men passed through Scranton, en route to Wilkes-Barre, to work for the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company. They were recruited in and about Factoryville. Two of the number were formerly employed as engineers on steamships. Several others had had experience with engines and boilers in sawmills. It is understood they are to take the place of the imported men who quit at the Stanton colliery.

The ten men who quit work at the Luzerne separator at the "Notch," Thursday, propose to return to work tomorrow morning. They had been receiving $1.50 a day for ten hours' work. Last Monday they demanded and were granted an eight-hour day without reduction in pay. Thursday last a crowd of strikers marched to where they were at work and succeeded in calling them off. They went to District President Nichols to explain that they had been granted the eight-hour day and desired to resume work. The output of the separator, they further explained, went almost solely to two charitable institutions, the House of the Good Shepherd and Hillside Home, and the rest of it to farmers living in the Clark's Summit region.

ANSWER NOT SATISFACTORY.
President Nichols did not give them a satisfactory answer to their request for the union's approval of their continuing work, and at a meeting Saturday they decided to return to work, whether or not the union approved of it.

Thirteen men, some of them sub-bosses, who have been manning the boilers and pumps at the Delaware and Hudson and Temple companies' collieries in Olyphant, have been persuaded by the strikers to quit work. Committee from the Olyphant locals of the United Mine Workers waited on them at their several homes and succeeded in inducing them to stay away from work. The Erie company is enclosing all its breakers with high board fences. Those in the Pittston region are being closed. At the Danmore and up-the-valley collieries the work is under way.

Another evidence of this company's belief that the strike will be a long one is found in the fact that its railroad department has withdrawn 750 men from the number of excursionists who would be carried in one day to Lake Ariel. It was only out of consideration of the pleasure of the people of the community that the company agreed to renew excursion business to the lake. The big increase in coal traffic made it inexpedient to give the road over to excursion trains and for a year they were withdrawn. This year it was decided to book not more than one excursion of not more than 750 persons each day. The coming of the strike and the cessation of coal traffic has resulted in the removal of these limitations.

MEETING THIS AFTERNOON.

A meeting of all engineers, firemen and pumpmen of Scranton and vicinity has been called for this afternoon at 2 o'clock, in St. David's hall, West Scranton. District President Nichols will deliver an address.

The practice of hanging flags of men continuing at work is prevalent on the West Side, especially in the Boone Hill district. Three were cut down by the police Saturday.

W. P. Schilling, chorister of St. Peter's cathedral, has undertaken a benefit concert for the strikers. The project has the approval of President Mitchell.

On Saturday a rumor was circulated to the effect that 3,000 men were to parade the streets of Olyphant after midnight and march on to the various collieries. President John Mitchell, in the rumor at Wilkes-Barre and called upon Stephen Reap on the phone at the headquarters there, who assured him that there was no foundation to the story, and that everything was peaceful throughout. A number of stuffed figures adorn the telegraph poles in different parts of Olyphant.

It is expected that a number of washeries will be opened up this week by the larger companies, as a first step towards gradually resuming general operations.

Thomas Mahon and Michael McNamara were arrested last night on a warrant, in West Scranton, by Patrolmen McDonald and James Thomas. The charge was disorderly conduct, the pair having been fixed upon as the men who hung a red union flag in the back section of West Scranton.

COSGROVE NOT GUILTY.

Jury Rendered This Verdict Saturday Afternoon—Defendant Congratulated by His Friends.

"Not guilty" was the verdict returned Saturday by the jury before whom Sylvester F. Cosgrove was tried last week for causing the death of Daniel McAuliffe.

Saturday morning Judge Lynch charged the jury and it retired to make up its verdict at 11.30 o'clock. At 2.15 a verdict of not guilty was returned. It is the verdict generally expected from the time the evidence for the defense was put in. Cosgrove was warmly congratulated by his friends after his acquittal.

It is not likely that the cases against Frank Kinsey and Frank Kofschinski, who were indicted with Cosgrove, will ever go to trial. Failure to convict the latter would make it useless to try the others since commonwealth's contention was that Cosgrove actually fired the fatal shot.

Mackey McDonough, who pleaded guilty to stealing a quantity of iron from the Bellevue mine of the Lackawanna company was called for sentence but as there is still a case of burglary pending against him, sentence was deferred until Tuesday. Walsh, Finnigan and Judge, members of the same gang, will also be sentenced on that day.

Six months in the county jail, the costs and a fine of $1 were the sentence meted out by Judge Newcomb, to Henry Price, the colored man, who endeavored to carve Laura Paine with a razor in Raymond court, recently.

The jury in the case of James Kearney, charged with embezzling $45 from the Singer Machine company, returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence was deferred until next Saturday.

Joseph Hotchkiss, a 16-year-old boy who was convicted of maliciously stoning the residence of D. W. Richards was fined $15 and costs.

In the case of John Metzger, charged with assaulting William Kivlehan, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, but directed the defendant to pay the costs. Sentence in the case of Thomas and Ernest Watkins and Joseph Gaughan, the boys who pleaded guilty to stealing brass from the Mt. Pleasant mine, was deferred until October.

EDWARD A. NIVEN DEAD.

One of the Most Brilliant Journalists in Northeastern Pennsylvania Passes Away.

Edward A. Niven, one of the best known journalists of Northeastern Pennsylvania, died at 1.15 hours in Wilkes-Barre yesterday of pneumonia, aged 61.

He was one of the founders of the Wilkes-Barre Daily Leader, and in early life was employed on newspapers in New York, Chicago and San Francisco. He also had editorial charge of the Wilkes-Barre Times when it was published by Charles B. Snyder.

In addition to regular newspaper work, Mr. Niven found time to devote his talents to special articles, which always found ready sale in the metropolitan papers, and was the author of two operative librettos. The first, called "The Smith Family," with music by Sam Speck, was first produced about sixteen years ago by Wilkes-Barre amateurs. It was afterwards produced by the Lyceum company, with Mr. Niven as prima donna. His last work, a musical comedy, based upon the operations of the United States representatives in Sulu, is in the hands of an operative manager, who will probably produce it as soon as music has been written.

As a writer of lyrics the deceased had few equals. His last work in the daily newspaper field was upon the Wilkes-Barre Leader, where his versatility was manifested in a column of local and general chat, which was almost daily brightened by some of the following may be considered as a fair sample:

Be content with what you have, You cannot alter fate, You do not know when fortune's smiles Will brighten your estate; Take up your burdens with a smile, Nor heed the frowning sky, Be patient and you surely greet A changing destiny.

The first week of June in the Tribune's Educational Contest shows Oscar Kipp, of Elmhurst, well ahead for the first special prize offered for the largest number of points during the month, with Albert Freedman of Bellevue second.

On Saturday two new contestants scored their first points. They were Elmer Williams, of Elmhurst, and Miss May Brown, of Nicholson. Mr. Williams displaced Edgar Wilson, Jr., of Scranton, from thirty-third position, while Miss Brown did not have enough votes at the start to get into the main table, but is now tied with two others for the thirty-sixth position. These were the only changes in position on Saturday.

During the past week twenty-three contestants returned points, as follows: Oscar Kipp, 46; Albert Freedman, 24; Maxwell Shepherd, 21; A. J. Kellerman, 16; Herbert Thompson, 15; Charles Burns, 13; Walter Hallett, 12; William Rodriguez, 12; Don C. Capwell, 8; Leroy Stanton, 7; Walter Ellis, Miss Vivian Mickle, Elmer Williams, and Lee Culver, 4 each; William Sherwood, A. J. Havens, C. J. Clark and Charles Dorsey, 3 each; Homer Kresge, John Mackie, and Louis Gere, 2 each, and Eddie Morris and Miss May Brown, 1 each.

The following contestants have scored points since the beginning of the contest, but not enough to give them a place in the main table:

34. Edgar Wilson, Jr., Scranton, 2
35. Louis Gere, Brooklyn, 2
36. R. D. Dorsey, Scranton, 1
38. Miss May Brown, Nicholson, 1

As soon as the above six contestants secure enough points they will take the place of those at the bottom of the main table, and the latter will have to work a little harder to keep their positions. The Tribune frequently receives encouraging words from those who commend its Educational Contest, and it is very evident that its liberal offer is thoroughly appreciated by the contestants, but it is seldom that it is so publicly commended as was done by Dr. C. M. Giffin, at the Children's day exercises at the Elm Park church yesterday morning. In the course of his remarks upon the advantages of education, he said: "I don't know what paper you read, but one that I read sometimes is conducting what is known as an Educational Contest, and thirty-five young people are striving to secure the scholarships which are offered. They are calling upon us every day endeavoring to secure subscriptions until they may score 'points.' I am glad to know that two, at least, of our young
